

Animal Studies Show Spirochete Persists After Lyme Treatment

A number of animal studies have shown that the Lyme spirochete has survived antibiotic Lyme treatment. A brief review of these studies can be found in the House Foreign Relations Committee testimony of Stephen Barthold, DVM, PhD, University of California, Davis.

See link:
<http://archives-republicans-foreignaffairs.house.gov/112/HHRG-112-FA16-WState-BartholdS-20120717.pdf>

Congressman Chris Smith (NJ-4), was the Chair of the hearing, in which the Lyme Disease Association President also testified.

Click here for article on the hearing

Click here for Oral Testimony by LDA President, Pat Smith

Click here for Written Testimony by LDA President, Pat Smith

Click here for all LDA Testimonies, Speeches & Positions