

ILADS Scientific Conference: Tick-Borne Diseases and Mental Health – One Day Course

Conference Overview

Date: Saturday, September 7, 2019

Location: The Westin-San Francisco Airport, 1 Old Bayshore Highway, Millbrae, CA 94030

Join us in San Francisco on Saturday, September 7, 2019 for a one day course for medical professionals. The theme of the meeting is Tick-Borne Diseases and Mental Health.

Mental health disorders can be a manifestation of Lyme and other tick-borne disease. Addressing the infection is one part of treatment for the cognitive and emotional symptoms.

This one day Mental Health Basics course will present the multiple theories, diagnostic methods, medication and treatment interventions that are used to alleviate the neuropsychiatric and neuropsychological impacts on those suffering from Lyme and other tick-borne-illnesses.

The meeting will be held at the San Francisco Airport Westin in Millbrae, California. (free shuttle buses from SF0)

Continuing Medical Education Information

This continuing education activity is provided through collaboration between the International Lyme and Associated Diseases Society and MedChi.
