

LDA Materials

The Lyme Disease Association has published many brochures, which can be ordered for free, that contain information about tick-borne diseases including symptoms, testing, and tick removal. LDA has also published several books, one especially for children with chronic Lyme disease.

In addition, LDA has created many charts, graphs, reports, and hand-outs about tick-borne diseases, some specific to individual states, and you can download all of them for presentations or handouts.

DVDs/videos have been produced by the LDA over time, featuring prominent scientists in the field of tick-borne diseases talking about research breakthroughs.

A number of publishers have donated books from authors who have Lyme disease, aka, Literati with Lyme, for the LDA to sell to provide program funding.
