

Lyme

Less than 50% of people with Lyme disease develop an erythema migrans (EM) rash. About 9% get the typical bullseye rash, which is one subset of the EM rash. Some people do not get any rash at all.

ngg_shortcode_0_placeholder