

Lyme Association/Columbia University Announcement

Disease Important

Photo Credit: M. White/LDA
File Photo

The Lyme Disease Association (LDA) and Columbia University jointly announce we have made a thoughtful but reluctant decision to postpone our annual fall 2020 CME Lyme & Other Tick-Borne Diseases Conference due to the worldwide COVID-19 (SARS-CoV-2) health emergency.

The safety and well being of everyone are primary concerns, and we hope everyone remains safe. See you next year! Thanks for your support.

LDA President, Pat Smith; Columbia University, Brian A. Fallon, MD